

Frail Without You

To/Die/For

Grief never dies
It slowly turns into
Another form of despair
Another form of pain

I gave you my life
You gave me yours
We thought it would last forever
We thought it would never end

For each other we took our lives
Where can I find my love
I`m frail without you
For a moment we shared one heart
In death we`d never be alone
But somehow we did part

In loving memory, that`s what it said
Nicely carved in stone
Somehow alive
Somehow still alone

Somehow alive even in death
Somehow still alone
