

Too Much Ain't Enough

To/Die/For

All I need is anything that makes me feel alive to end this pain and suffering that others may call life and when the wave comes crushing in

I cry from within

Too much ain't enough

I reach the peak of ecstasy my way back down begins so much for the luxury
it's payday time for sins

another wasted youth
another way to get kicks to escape the truth

I don't regret
I won't forget
The vivid high I never thought that I could get the highest high
the lowest low
the mirror lies and never lets me go
