

Silo Lullaby

Toad The Wet Sprocket

Green button like a lantern
Illuminates this cavern
And outside nothing matters anymore
My instinct won't deceive me
My senses will not leave me
When there's no one left to grieve me
I won't mourn

Good night, don't fear
I always will watch over you my dear
Good night, sleep well
I'll see you with the rest of them in hell

My hand won't shake the console
My handcuff will not rattle
As I win the final battle of all wars
And down beneath the ocean
I'll dream of wings in motion
A blinding glory
That'll show 'em what freedom's for

Good night, don't fear
I always will watch over you my dear
Good night, sleep well
I'll see you with the rest of them in hell

And so, for now, farewell...
