Viewing lights under the surface Knowing I'm found Can't run away from Can't make it undone

While reaching out for anything Screaming without a sound How did I find you How was I supposed to try

I'm frightened by the love that's in you
But it's alright
Oh and I'm frightened by the love that's in me
But I know, it's alright

The only one who understands
The only one who gave me
Something to belong to

With you, everything's beautiful
And I'm not scared to be
Falling into unknown
With you, I find the strength to carry on

I'm frightened by the love that's in you
But it's alright
Oh and I'm frightened by the love that's in me
But I know, it's alright

It's alright
