

Ready To Go

Toby Lightman

bite off more than you can chew just a little something new cause there's nothing you can't do, can't do jump into the deeper end so you can learn to stand inside your own shoes, own shoes you should know i'm always on your side don't be scared of dreaming don't be afraid of believing you gotta know it's your moment you're ready to go

open your eyes and taste take every chance don't waste it

take a little leap of faith just step outside the space and let your walls come down, come down now that you've got your wings you'll see what life can bring up high or on the ground theres so much love to give take a look around you got one life to live so better make it count
