

So Natural

Toby Lightman

blue eyes over me, they lay me down with a smile that lets me know that, i've been found lazy river floating, carry me only, say my name and i believe hold me, closer til i can't tell us apart i can't erase you when you're written in my heart there's no beginning, there'll be no end you're like an old pair of jeans, cling tight on my hips come apart at the seams for the love on your lips i can taste you getting sweeter with every sip you're so natural to love warm and tender like an august breeze blowing, butterfly kisses on the back of my knees oh sweet shivers down my spine, all that i can do is lay back and just, take in all of you there's no beginning, there'll be no end

hips

all i know, is what you do to me is all i need, cause when you're here with me it goes to show that you're so natural to love
