

The Idea Is Good But The World Isn't Ready Yet

Tocotronic

Go to a station in the so called spring again
Say hello to a stranger that comes out a train
Invite him for a coke in the snackbar straight ahead
Maybe he got problems and want's to talk about that

Probably he has no time i bet
The idea is good but the world isn't ready yet

Ride with a bicycle to another part of the city
Say 'hello' to a girl that maybe doesn't think you're pretty
Invite her for an icecream 'Cujamara Split'
Maybe she got a problem and want's to talk about it

Probably she has no time i bet
The idea is good but the world isn't ready yet

Yesterday at half past three there was another song to write
So I call up a girlfriend in the middle of the night
And I sing it through the telefon and it says 'I love you'
After I lay up I'm cryed in a moody blue

Probably she has no time i bet
The idea is good but the world isn't ready yet
