Breakable

Todd Agnew

Glory to God, the angels sang
The night You laid Your glory down
Son of God was born a babe
Forsaking Your beauty and power

For a world of pain
I can't believe You came

You are glorious, infinite and wise
You are mighty, holy, there is none beside You
But to save me from my brokenness
You became breakable

Crucify, the people screamed
Striped Your back and pierced Your side
All so I could be redeemed
It was for my life You died

And taking all my shame
And loving me the same

You are glorious, infinite and wise
You are mighty, holy, there is none beside You
But to save me from my brokenness
You became breakable

You knew my every last mistake
Still You chose to save me

You are glorious, infinite and wise
You are mighty, holy, there is none beside You
You are glorious, infinite and wise
You are mighty, holy, there is none beside You
But to save me from my brokenness
You became breakable, breakable