Cold Morning Light

Todd Rundgren

I believe if I was all alone
I would be better off in a world my own
I'd forget I ever knew of you
And this dream every night that you put me through

We walk along a Hollywood sea And you dance once again with me

We are close, we are friends And our love never ends But in the cold morning light I see That you won't be back for me

The wound you left is healing and then
It starts itching and I scratch it open again
So the pain comes out and I give in
And indulge my imaginations, whims

We sit and drink Victorian tea And your face wears a smile for me

I was yours, you were mine
Our hearts bound, lost in time
But in the cold morning light I see
That you won't be back

For me there can be no peace

For me there can be no rest

I believe though I've tried my best

I'm condemned it seems

To a life of restlessness and broken dreams

We are close, we are friends And our love never ends But in the cold morning light I see That you won't be back for me
