

Liar

Todd Rundgren

Duty calls the faithful few
The infidel must pay his due
For your family we will provide
You will fill them with empty pride
And for you many virgins wait
Say your prayers, accept your fate

Liar
Liar liar liar
Liar liar liar
And with every lying breath
You send them to their death
Liar liar liar

We need not the authority
Of some god of morality
Nor the aid of some skeptic land
Who puts truth before our demands
And to those who defy our law
We will bring them our shock and awe

Liar
Liar liar liar
Liar liar liar
And you send them to their death
With your every lying breath
Liar liar liar
Liar liar liar
