The Harrowing Adventures Of...

Tokyo Police Club

The harrowing adventures of You and I when we were captains of Submarines made of steel

Discovering the seven seas Fending off the giants of the deep Pendants from hanging teeth

Your ghost did you wrong When he wiped your spit on the tablecloth I am here to fight And light your blood in the dim moonlight Two wrongs making right

The harrowing adventures of You and I before our eyes lay on Shadows cast in the night

Led me to your old home Set the tables for two alone Pass the salt, pour the wine 'Cause I'm alright if you're alright
