

Let Me In

Tom Dice

see you're trying not to cry behind those eyes
And I see you've made the sacrifice and now I bleed

And it breaks my heart to see that everything fallen apart
Raise your voice if you've got something to say
You've got something to say

You, you're the biggest part of me
The reason I'll do anything
For you, you won't fall
Just let me in, let me in

You see all I can do is try but you won't let me
It's time to use the emptiness inside to keep your dreams alive

'Cause it breaks my heart to see that everything fallen apart
Raise your voice if you've got something to say
You've got something to say

You, you're the biggest part of me
The reason I'll do anything
For you, you won't fall, you won't fall

You, you're the biggest part of me
The reason I'll do anything
For you, you won't fall

And it breaks my heart to see that everything fallen apart
Lay down your guard if you've got something to say
You've got something to say

You, you're the biggest part of me
The reason I'll do anything
For you, you won't fall, you won't fall

You, you're the biggest part of me
The reason I'll do anything, do anything
For you, you won't fall, you won't fall
You won't fall, just let me in
