Tom Helsen

Silently repeating, Esther is my charm
She'll light up for no-one else and she's leaving today
And all you men are slime and anyone can tell her this
And anyone can do her with a smile

They'll turn you on and you'll do fine
They'll deceive you again
I'll beam you up and lock your door
Bring you home again

Idealize you

Polyester breeding and polyester's out
And I,
And I'll do fine and I believe you
And I'll give you seven spaces in my house

And there's no time and no believe in... in me
And you'll scream it out, there is no mistaking:
You are god and everyone is smaller
Just take it if you really want to drag it all the way
And I,
I am going down with you
So fake it if you really want like waters all around

Idealize you
Idealize you

Polyester breeding and polyester's out
Heart-attacks are faking and your fires are allowed
Think that I can take this, but it's getting to my head
Where all your wires are repeating and your monster-truck is bad
Idealize you
Never been so clear
I can think and I can dream her 50 miles away from here
Idealize you
