

In Style And Rhythm

Tom Jones

I see the girls by the pool and they are playing it cool and they are playing it fine but, I miss the rhythm divine

I miss their elegant touch it's all a little too much You gotta do it in style,
and rhythm...

I see the guys on the street I see the people they meet and they are playing it smart but I'm not buying that part They are playing it tough That's strictly dubious stuff
You gotta do it in style,
and rhythm...

I see the people around They're spending dollars and pounds They think they are so debonair, but I'm not buying that flair
They got all the right moves but I'm missing the groove
You gotta do it in style,
and rhythm...

So when you check someone out and the music is loud Don't concentrate on the lips, just keep your eyes on the hips and if there's plenty of swing Then sure enough there is zing.
You gotta do it in style,
and rhythm, and rhythm, and rhythm, and rhythm.

You gotta do it in style, and rhythm, style and rhythm, do it in style, do got to do it in rhythm, do it in rhythm, style and rhythm, style and rhythm Well, you know what I mean Style, rhythm, oh whole lot of rhythm, oh whole lot of rhythm, Oh yeah...
