

It Must Be You

Tom Jones

The sun is shining, it's everywhere
Don't have no worry, don't have no care
It must be true, this is the season
Baby, it must be you

It was raining the other day
But that lonely feeling has gone away
It must be true, it's so pleasing
It must be you
(It must be you)

That's what they say
In those storybooks of old
You light my way
And you satisfy my soul

It must be magic
(Must be magic)
It must be love
(Must be love)

Oh, what could I have been thinking of
It's the reason I'm feeling so blue
It must be you
(It must be you)

(It must be you)
Well, that's what they say
In those storybooks of old
You light my way and you satisfy my soul

It must be magic
(Must be magic)
It must be bliss
(Must be bliss)

Oh, it must be real on a night like this
It must be true, that's the reason, baby
It must be you
(Must be you)
I figured it must be you
(It must be you)

Baby, baby, baby, baby, baby, baby
(It must be you)
You know it must be you
(It must be you)

You know it's real on a night like this
It's just bliss
(It must be you)
It must be you
(It must be you)
Baby, it must be you
