

So Afraid

Tom Jones

Looking in your eyes
And finding only a reflection
There of me
Many questions long unanswered
Many doubts what go on botherin' me

If I were on the other side
Where little tender feelin's
Run and hide away from me
Would I find love embedded there
Would I know
Then that I'm a fool to be

Is love to you a melody
You only wish
To share with me today
And not an ever lastin' thing
A song we sing that time can take away

Your love is such a precious thing
The thought of losing you
Can bring such fear to me
If I could be behind your eyes
Then I might realize I'm wrong to be

So afraid, oh so afraid
So afraid of losing you

Looking in your eyes
And finding only a reflection
There of me
Many questions long unanswered
Many doubts what go on botherin' me

Oh, your love is such a precious thing
The thought of losing you
Can bring such fear to me
Oh, if I could be behind your eyes
Then I might realize I'm wrong to be

So afraid, so afraid
So afraid of losing you

So afraid, I'm so afraid
So afraid of losing you
