

Strange Boat

Tom Jones

We're sailing in a strange boat
Heading for a strange shore
We're sailing in a strange boat
Heading for a strange shore

Carrying the strangest cargo
That was ever hauled aboard

We're sailing on a strange sea
Blown by a strange wind
We're sailing on a strange sea
Blown by a strange wind

Carrying the strangest crew
That, that ever sinned

We're riding in a strange car
We're followin' a strange star
We're climbing on the strangest ladder
That was ever there to climb

We're living in a strange time
Working for a strange goal
We're living in a strange time
Working for a strange goal

We're turning
Flesh and body into soul

We're riding in a strange car
We're followin' a strange star
We're climbing on the strangest ladder
That was ever there to climb

We're living in a strange time
Working for a strange goal
We're living in a strange time
Working for a strange goal

We're turning
Flesh and body into soul
