The Loser

Tom Jones

Someone's got to win Someone's got to lose That the way it's got to be I guessed that it's so I'd really like to know But why does the loser Always have to be me?

Someone's love will last Someone's love will end It's as simple as "ABC" It's not really new Somebody has to lose But why does the loser Always have to be me?

I don't ask much Just let lady luck touch me one time And maybe then, I will bring back The love that were mine Someone's got to lose And end up with the blues But why does the loser Always have to be me?

Oh, why does the loser I mean, why does the loser Oh baby, why does the loser Always have to be me?
