

Where Do You Belong

Tom Jones

Where do you belong, where do you come from
Are you an angel, in disguise
Can I see heaven in your eyes

I wanna know
I wanna know the truth about you
Tell me now

It seems impossible you'll be even in my arms
You cast a spell on me, oh so innocently
Can it be possible your addicted to my charm
I won't let you go, 'till you let me know
Oh I've gotta know

Oh where do you belong, where do you come from
Are you an angel, in disguise
Can I see heaven in your eyes
