

Still Love You

Tom McRae

When I walk through
The bone yard with you
I think I'm walking hand in hand
With my own ghost

I've been many things
I've played a fool to catch a king
And I've even been the man
Behind the walls who hears your screams

But I, I still love you
Yeah I, I still love you

Like a wolf on a black new moon
A shadow boxer at high noon
I'm acting lost and so confused
That much is clear

Are you the one I've come to save?
Are you the water or the wave?
Am I drinking you down deep
Or drowning here?

But I, I still love you
Yeah I, I still love you
