

Intro to On The Road From Srebrenica

Tom Paxton

Well, Short Shelf Life songs come and go. Sometimes topical songs aren't so funny, and shouldn't be so funny. Right out of the newspapers - I've been trying to write a song for the last year about Bosnia Herzegovina. And, the name that kept sticking with me was Srebrenica, the town that was - to me Srebrenica looked like Guernica from the Spanish civil war. It's a town that was devastated by war, where the people were expelled brutally, murderously - and this is a song called 'On The Road From Srebrenica'...
