

Make That Connection

Tom Petty

Oh, what would I do, oh, what would I do, babe?
Honey, I have this feeling, it's never ever, ever explained
Yeah, I'm afraid a part of my heart
Would always feel misunderstood, babe

I would never know, honey
I never meant to drive you away
What's wrong?

I want to make that connection
That connection to you
I want to make that connection
That connection to you

What would I give if I could have you now?
Baby, what would I give to see your smiling face again?
You know there's nothing I would not do

No river I would not swim
No mountain I would not climb, baby
If I could have you right here once again

I want to make that connection
That connection to you
I want to make that connection
That connection to you

Tell me, baby, is it something I might have said?
Is it something I might have done wrong
To change your mind?

Tell me, baby, is it something I've have said?
Is it something I could've done?
Honey, somehow let me right all your wrongs

I want to make that connection
That connection to you
I want to make that connection
That connection to you

Oh, what would I give if you would tell me just one thing?
Honey, what would I give
If you would stroke my hand with your brow
Or whisper sweet things into my ear

I would smile like a baby
I would be happy like a child
If I could have you right here, right here, right here
Right here with me now

I want to make that connection
That connection to you
I want to make that connection, yes, I do

I want to make that connection
That connection to you
I want to make that connection, what's wrong?

I want to make that connection, that connection to you
