

I Hate You

Toni Braxton

Baby I was wrong
I misjudged you
And baby I was wrong to not trust you
And baby I was wrong but I won't be wrong again
Listen baby
And baby I was wrong when I left you
And maybe I'd be used up without you
Baby I'll be damned if I don't let you in my life again

Chorus

Its you, its me
But hold up, who's she
What was I thinking
All I know right now is that I hate you
For what you put me through
With all of my heart I hate that girl you're with too
I hate you and everything about you
I won't apologize, you need to recognize
With all of my heart I hate that I love you

What could I have done not to hurt you
And what could I have done to not push you away
Tell me what I've done and I won't do it again oh babe
Just tell me what I did to deserve this
And tell me why you gave someone else my kiss
And maybe I won't die if you're back in my life again

Chorus

You, its me
But hold up, who's she
What was I thinking (damn)
All I know right now is that I hate you
For what you put me through
With all of my heart I hate that girl you're with too
I hate you and everything about you
I won't apologize, you need to recognize
With all of my heart I hate that I love you

Bridge

I hate the fact that I think about you
I hate that I can't sleep without you
I just can't get over not making love to you
I never thought that we'd end up like this
And heaven knows that my heart just can't take . . .
Damn for sure . . . I know right now . . .

Chorus

All I know right now is that I hate you
For what you put me through
With all of my heart I hate that girl you're with too
I hate you and everything about you
I won't apologize, you need to recognize
With all of my heart I hate that I love you
