

Safe & Sound

Tonight Alive

I can't see through the stars in my eyes
And I don't recall breathing steady ever since you've been in my life
So let me catch my breath before you steal it once again
I should be dead by now I swear it
And my heart you know I'll wear it on my sleeve For everyone to see that I am yours and you belong to me
That nothing in this world could ever make this happy

So don't fall asleep, don't fall asleep
Im yours to keep im yours to keep
And from here on in, im giving it everything coz

Nothing compares to what we share
I don't have a care in the world
Coz even if it all came crashing down
As long as youre around..

And im dying to know what it is that youre thinking,
And im desperate to know why it is that im sinking So deep beneath my sheets and im struggling to find sleep.
Coz ive been retracing the steps that we took
And remembering the way that you held me as I shook
In the rain and I knew that I would never be the same

Coz this is the end of life as we know it
And these feelings I'll never out grow them
Im determined to show you, im determined to show them coz

Nothing compares to what we share
I don't have a care in the world
Coz even if it all came crashing down
As long as youre around..

I'll be safe and sound, safe and sound
You turned my life around, im so far off the ground
And it's all because of you, I don't know what to do I think im falling, falling, ive fallen in love with you

Because nothing compares to what we share
I don't have a care in the world
Coz even if it all came crashing down
As long as youre around I'll be safe and sound
