

To Dance Alone

Tony Carey

Take a walk down, angel
Yeah, go on and meet your man
Tell him that you could not get away
He has got you by the spoonful
I've got you by the hand
Cause I've known you so long
And I've heard that running song
I know all about the price you have to pay

Dance alone my little one
if you don't know where to go
I will still be right here waiting
When he's gone
There are races to be run
There are winds that always blow
But I don't wanna dance
I don't wanna dance alone

You're a freight train runnin'
And you're tearin' up that track
I can hear your lonely siren in the air
But I will keep that all inside me
I'll try to hold it back
And I know you so well
And I know you're running spells
And I know that one grey morning you'll be back

Dance alone my little one
If you don't know where to go
There will always be a place
That you call home
There are races to be run
There are winds that always blow
Please, baby don't dance
Baby don't dance alone

I don't believe in coincidence
I don't believe in lights-out all over black, no
I don't believe in a world without you, baby
Cause I've know you so long
And I've heard that running song
And I know that one grey morning you'll be back
