

From Another World

Tony Iommi

Somewhere in time forgotten
I know I lost the way
So many times there fading
I thought I heard you say
Although I've never met you
But I do know you well
Lay your head upon my pillow
And only time will tell
From another world, from another world

And I will never go back
To waste another day
I wish I was the last one
To live a life that way
And I have walked through madness
I burn with fear inside
Leave a candle in the window
And god knows I have tried
From another world, from another world

Maybe someone's trying to take my life away
Maybe I just want to live cos I'm not crazy
And I will move another mountain, maybe

Maybe someone's trying to take my life away
Maybe I just want to live cos I'm not crazy
And I will move another mountain, maybe

If there's another lifetime
Where I don't have to hide
Leave a candle in the window
Cos god knows I have tried
From another world, from another world
From another world, from another world

From another world

From another world

I wish I was the last one
I burn with fear inside

From another world
