

Why Love

Tony Martin

Why love, why love, why
Why love, why love, why

If found the road to hell,
And it passes by my window
So many numbed by your magic spell
Like me they tried to find
A way to your door

They cry all night and curse the kiss
That changes love to emptiness forever

CHORUS

Why love, why love, why

I thought we're living as branches
On the same tree
Why love, why love, why
Why take the only thing
That belongs to me
