

Pretty Little Thing

Too Close To Touch

Just Forgive me started on these simple things
And before your body fixed the broken wings of Everything that carries you forward now
But you have the holes remaining in your word now
I try to question what is real or not
A bigger part of my everything
The end to a dark place
Bury the thought of your face

It's alright, it's alright
Tell me you need me
Telling you that it's
Alright, it's alright
But your no good for me

Pretty little thing
Attention only when in need
But you know that I'll cave in
Pretty little thing
You know the way to make me weak
But I'll stand up on your feet
Shame on you for hitting where it most hurts
Shame on me for listening
Pretty little thing
I think you better turn away
My attention is ending

Whatever helps you sleep at night
Is certainly beside me
Cause I've been searching for the answers,
On this old abandoned road you built
Desperate to see
Forgive me started on these simple things
And before your body fixed the broken wings of
Every single promise that you flew my way
Picking up the notion that you may come back

It's alright, it's alright
Tell me you need me
Telling you that it's
Alright, it's alright
But your no good for me

Pretty little thing
Attention only when in need
But you know that I'll cave in
Pretty little thing
You know the way to make me weak
But I'll stand up on your feet
Shame on you for hitting where it most hurts
Shame on me for listening
Pretty little thing
I think you better turn away
My attention is ending

What if our words where rotting in (rotting in)
And every broken breath we take

I hear your call your crying out
I scream your name

Pretty little thing
Attention only when in need
Pretty little thing
Attention only when in need
But you know that I'll cave in
Pretty little thing
You know the way to make me weak
But I'll stand up on your feet
Shame on you for hitting where it most hurts
Shame on me for listening
Pretty little thing
I think you better turn away
My attention is ending
My attention is ending
