Walking with your eyes closed down a dead end street You think you're never coming back That's when your heart begins to bleed, yeah Wandering in circles and you don't know where to go

Let me take the rain Let me take the pain And wash it away

I'd do anything, give anything for you When your love's blinded my eyes can see, yeah I'd do anything, give everything it's true Feel what I'm feeling, make you a believer I'll be your faith healer

Came without a warning, tore your world apart
Lost dreams and bad memories
Have dept me in the dark, yeah, yeah
You can keep running, running from the shadows of the past

Let me clear the rain Let me take the pain And wash it away

I'd do anything, give anything for you When your love's blinded my eyes can see, yeah I'd do anything, give everything it's true Feel what I'm feeling, make you a believer I'll be your faith healer

Walking with your eyes closed Down a dead end street You think you're never coming back That's when your heart begins to bleed

I'd do anything, give anything for you When your love's blinded my eyes can see I'd do anything, give everything it's true Feel what I'm feeling, make you a believer I'll be your faith healer

I'd do anything, give anything for you When your love's blinded my eyes can see, yeah I'd do anything, give everything it's true Feel what I'm feeling, make you a believer I'll be your faith healer

I'll be your faith healer
I'll be your faith healer
