

Maybe California

Tori Amos

Hey Mrs. C, please don't jump why not?
Nothing is making sense anymore to me
I don't know when I stopped making him smile
Now the kids see me crying all the time

From one mother to the other
They'll never get over this for their lifetime
All their wishes will be dashed upon those cliffs so let's be strong for you and me the night is opening
Our angels are falling and they will warm us
She asked right now right here
I'm feeling so (mad dear)

Maybe California
Maybe California

As mothers we have our troubles you'll leave them with emptiness for their lifetime
All their wishes will be dashed upon those cliffs
So let's be strong you and me the night is opening
Our angels are falling and they will warm us
She asked right now right here
I'm feeling so (mad dear)

Maybe California
Maybe California

Until then there will be starlight shining down
For every tear and every child
