I Will Remember

I was born in the land of the sun And the tall green grass And I don't understand How all this has come to pass How we've come to surround ourselves In a sea of thieves In a land without learning Only the fools believe

I went driving last night On a dark canyon road Had the sky to myself But I wasn't alone Had the pain of my lifetime For my company How did it end up like this For you and me

When love breaks the promise The heart has to keep It leaves only truth here to find When the spirit is crushed And the hurt is so deep Between you and I

Even when love has come and gone And our hearts have moved along I will remember There was a time we had the trust And that always was enough I will remember I will remember you

As I open my eyes to one more day The wind burns my face As it whispers your name As it's pulling me forward It tears me free And the only thing left Is the tears for you and me

'Cause when love breaks the promise The heart has to keep It leaves only truth here to find When the spirit is crushed And hurt is so deep Between you and I

Even when love has come and gone And our hearts have moved along I will remember There was a time we had the trust And that always was enough I will remember

Even when love has come and gone And our hearts have moved along

I will remember There was a time we had the trust And that always was enough I will remember I will remember you
