

Frozen Steps

Touch of Eternity

I'm the night
The darkest of the souls
You're the day
That withers out my hopes

I'm a crow
Always causing a trouble
You're a dove
Flying harmlessly around

I'm alone
A lonely-parted thug
You're alive
You're not one but you're two

The burden of fragile life
The burden of dark and light
The curtain has fallen
We remain in those frozen steps

While I'm the sand
A sea of little shards
You're the stone
A You and nothing more

And we are two
Never to unite as one
While we try
We both die from inside

The burden of fragile life
The burden of dark and light
The curtain has fallen
We remain in those frozen steps

Can we take the burden?
Can we outlast the problems?
Are we to live united?
Can we take the burden?
