

Swimming With Sharks

Touché Amore

It's the most important game of chance.
Judging judgments with a glance.
But a spade's a spade, so it's all the same.
A different shade with a different name.
I've got my eye on the queen of hearts,
but I'm tired of searching through this house of cards because I'm playing for keeps.
With nothing to lose, you can't lose it all.
