

The Great Repetition

Touché Amore

with intermission ending, the finale is approaching it's not what you're expecting, because you're all involved now will you take your seats, and be quiet please i need all eyes on me, as i try to explain: this is my final act so I'll need your full attention and for my final trick i'll make everyone who loves me disappear but i won't know how to bring them back alone i'll stand on this stage no one to care, myself to blame an act with no conclusion that's me up there
that's me: repetition
