

Over Twenty-one

Toyah

(Kajanus)

You get my letters

But I don't understand your reply

But I'll be there west of the wall

At the (Romeha?), I've got to try

Wanna see you, then you ask me why

So you're different, I've got a lifetime image of you

You're so distant, why should I matter in what you do

You've got your life, no matter what you've done

Why should I care, you're over twenty-one

Another sleeper to Paris

Another place to hide

But you shouldn't try to fool me

After all I'm on your side

Wanna see you, then you ask me why

So you're different, I've got a lifetime image of you

You're so distant, why should I matter in what you do

You've got your life, no matter what you've done

Why should I care, you're over twenty-one

So you're different, I've got a lifetime image of you

You're so distant, why should I matter in what you do

You've got your life, no matter what you've done

Why should I care, you're over twenty-one

You're over twenty-one

Wanna see you, and you ask me why
