

Vigilante

Toyah

(Bogdanovs)

Deep in the city, far from home
Down in the alley, where the white boys roam
Feel that razor kiss your face
Mindless violence, unsolved case
Start the engine, slam the door
The vigilante settles his score
Blue lines flash in summer heat
The vigilante's out on the street
Footstep echo, no street lights
Heartbeat quicker, through the dark of night
Walk in silence, walk in fear
Don't look back, danger's near
Start the engine, slam the door
The vigilante settles his score
Blue lines flash in summer heat
The vigilante's out on the street
The vigilante's out on the steet
Switchblade cutthroat, who watches wagon
Down in the gutter, where the drunkards stagger
Deep in the shadow, a silhoutte figure
Face both sides, squeeze that trigger
Start the engine, slam the door
The vigilante settles his score
Blue lines flash in summer heat
The vigilante's out on the street
Start the engine, slam the door
The vigilante settles his score
Blue lines flash in summer heat
The vigilante's out on the street
Start the engine, slam the door
The vigilante settles his score
Blue lines flash in summer heat
The vigilante's out on the street
