

30 Seconds

Tracy Bonham

For every stone there's a rock
Waiting for someones head
Here it come, and you wish you had two heads
30 seconds. 30 seconds.
Sell half your soul
And you realize that you are
No one. no one. no one.
For every star
There's another one that's fading
Fading away, hating every bit of life
30 seconds. 30 seconds.
One day of sun
And the rest you're spending as a
No one. no one. no one. no one.
Out of my way
Out of my way
Before you know you're
Out of my way
Out of my way
For everyone there's another one that's stronger
So out you go like the trash that you drug in 30 seconds. 30 seconds.
Paving the way
For the ones who made you feel like
No one. no one. no one. no one.
Out of my way
Out of my way
Before you know you're
Out of my way
Out of my way
