Well, my car broke down outside of town
Up ahead I saw a farm
Some white-faced heifers chewin' on that cud thought cows can't do no harm.

Lackin' better sense I jumped the fence And went crashin' through the corn From the corner of my eye I wondered why One of them cows had horns.

Well, he seemed to be approachin' me At quite a rapid pace Does he want me to pet him Or does he just want to race?

Next thing I knew the sky's so blue And I'm up above the trees And I'm face down layin' on the ground Starin' up at somebody's knees.

And I said with calves like that you gotta be a cowgirl They don't make calves like that in town
She had a big ol' hat and big blue eyes and blond curls With calves like that you gotta be a cowgirl.

Now I'm her man and she's my girl And we're livin' on the farm We spend all day making hay Out behind the barn.

Well, our little boy wants to grow up And be exactly just like me But our little girl says Hey you all, I wonder what I'll be?

And I said with calves like that gotta be a cowgirl They don't make calves like that in town
She had a big ol' hat and big blue eyes and blond curls With calves like that you gotta be a cowgirl.

Yeah, with calves like that gotta be a cowgirl
They don't make calves like that in town
She had a big ol' hat and big blue eyes and blond curls
With calves like that you gotta be a cowgirl...
