Say Hallelujah

Tracy Chapman

Say Hallelujah Throw up your hands The bucket is kicked The body is gone Close your eyes And bow your head To rest your soul And to praise the dead Say Hallelujah Throw up your hands The bucket is kicked The body is gone Dry your eyes And stand upright Put a smile on your face He wouldn't want us to cry The sun will rise The stars will shine Turning day to dusk And night to dawn We'll pass on But until that time Say Hallelujah Hallelujah Say Hallelujah Hallelujah Say Hallelujah Throw up your hands The bucket is kicked The body is gone Have mercy It's a wonderful life Eternal rest for the weary Mourners party tonight Say Hallelujah Throw up your hands The bucket is kicked The body is gone Wave your hands But don't say goodbye We're all gonna meet you On the other side
