God's Green Earth

Tracy Lawrence

I shook off the blame and said some things When I should have bit my tongue My foolish pride made the knot we tied, come undone

I've got more regrets than blades of grass That cover up this dirt On this big old ball we all call God's green earth

Oh, your memory has colored me lonely tonight My eyes are red from the tears I have cried I'm heartbroke and blue, sittin' on a world of hurt Down here on God's green earth

Hey, it's a fact if you don't come back Can't live without your love I'll do anything for another drink from that cup

Without you, girl, it's true I got a powerful thirst that can't be drowned By all the water found on God's green earth

Oh, your memory has colored me lonely tonight My eyes are red from the tears I have cried I'm heartbroke and blue, sittin' on a world of hurt Down here on God's green earth

Yeah, I'm heartbroke and blue, sittin' on a world of hurt Down here on God's green earth
