

Nothing But Love

Trading Yesterday

A perfect day is everyday I'm spending my life with you
I can't explain how I fall in love with everything that you do
God sure must like me more than I ever knew
Cause I could never ask for more from love and life than you

Cause I'm lost in the grace of your smile
To fall in your love is a place I could spend my life
I know we could take on the world; just you and me, girl
With nothing but love

And seeing you is seeing how you're making my life so complete
And knowing you will share all your joy and pain and laughter with me
God sure must like me more than I ever knew
Cause I could never ask for more from love and life than you

Cause I'm lost in the grace of your smile
To fall in your love is a place I could spend my life
I know we could take on the world; just you and me, girl
With nothing but love

And if the sky would fall down and crash into the sea
I know that I'll still have you, baby, and you will still have me
And that's all we'll need, yea yeah

Cause I'm lost in the grace of your smile
To fall in your love is a place I could spend my life
I'm lost in the grace of your smile
To fall in your love is a place I could spend my life
I know we could take on the world; just you and me, girl
With nothing but love
With nothing but love, love, love
With nothing but love
