

Deceptive Mirrors

Trail of Tears

Tainted I stand here ridden with de cease Nail me with a vacant stare Prepare me for release
Sow a scar upon my face
Plans for my resurrection laid to waste

Chorus:

It takes more than me
to heal the infected eye I'd drain me dry to heal the long lost beauty
It takes more than me
to seal the infected eye I'll follow my fate to cut your tongue of hate

Sink further down
Let myself drown in my own self-deception Watch how the mirrors twist the truth
Thoughts designed to destroy the average man Thoughts designed to erase our confidence
Anger Frustration
the message is now!
These are all things that now pressure my soul

I can see your face turning blue
The fire in your eyes is fading too
I can sense the fear running through your veins as the pictures turn to red