

Loneliness has entered me and
Once again I cannot sleep, so
Many things are confusing me
And the seed of pain, it's infecting
Me, the seed of pain has grown
Defenseless I bleed

Realize all is lost, realize all
Is dead, realize all is lost
All is dead, realize all is Gone, realize all that was Sacrificed for us both, has been drowned

Mournful tides have come for me
When the hunger sets, I'm too
Weak to eat, there is just so much
That I don't understand, how did
I end up here where life seems so
Unfair, with such an open heart
There's nothing to defend

For far too long I've been searching in endless ways, to shelter, to cover
Up while storms are moving by
For far too long I've trying how can I, keep on going now, when the World is passing me by
