

Splendid Coma Visions

Trail of Tears

In the coma vaults
In deepest sleep
You tie them up and watch them swing from the rope of insecurity You start to question the reason of your mind as paranoia penetrates you and rapes your sanity

You're running towards the end as your eyes are blinded So frightened by your own mistakes that you feel you're falling down

You're running towards the end
as you try to comprehend For the things you never did fulfil are back to haunt you

In the coma vaults
In deepest sleep
They flash before your tearful eyes from the bottom of your dreams
In the theatre of deception you play the leading role Put fire to your memories It's time to end them all

I feel the fright as I hide from my dark desires In honesty I confess all my deepest secrets
