

Baby, Happy Birthday

Train

I came to make it right, I know it was your birthday
Now I do remember, but these days my mind ain't right Maybe it's the pressure, think you can forgive me?
Don't over think it baby, doesn't mean that I am falling out of love

Don't you think that I wish that I could be somebody else somet imes?
Someone to depend on, I don't know what's wrong with me
Don't you think that I wish that I could be somebody else somet imes?
Someone that would never forget your birthday

I bet your family, never wants to see me, sisters want to knee me
Most times I think they're right Whistling my memory away just like a melody
And what worth's an alibi
Think what it's like to be me, if only need me

Don't you think that I wish that I could be somebody else somet imes?
Someone to depend on, I don't know what's wrong with me
Don't you think that I wish that I could be somebody else somet imes?
Someone that would never forget your birthday

When I met you, you were looking for a sunny day
A little bit of heart and a whole lot of running away
And now you're looking at somebody that you would love to chang e

Don't you think that I wish that I could be somebody else for y ou?
Someone you could count on, what is taking so long?

Don't you think that I wish that I could be somebody else somet imes?
Someone that would never forget your birthday
Baby, happy birthday
