

Beyond the Sun

Transatlantic

Somewhere beyond the sun,
I'll hear your voice again
When these few days are gone,
I'll see you smile again

And we will live forever
when all is joined together
And we will live each day beyond the sun
Beyond the sun

Up we come, then blink our eyes and down we go
And much of life we barely understand
Touching down, our spirits sing, and then we're gone
Leaving just a hand print in the sand

But somewhere beyond the sun,
I'll hear your voice again
When these few days are gone,
I'll see you smile again

And we will live forever
where all is joined together
And we will live each day beyond the sun
And we will come as children
Like music from the heavens
And I will see your face beyond the sun
Beyond the sun
Beyond the sun

Beyond the sun
Beyond the sun
Beyond the sun