Mystery Train

Transatlantic

On the road to anywhere, in a place that exists without time I met a girl who sang to me but her songs had no rhythm or rhym e I couldn't feel, I could not think but my my what a colorful bl ind As she sang in my mind

Let the deal go down Ride that mystery train Break the whole thing down Start all over again Let the deal go down Ride that mystery train

Welcome to the mystery - dreams float in a pool in my head There's your mother when she was young There's Uncle Dick looking sick and half dead The lights are on and she is home, stretched out on a chodachro me bed There's singing in my head

Let the deal go down Ride that mystery train Break the whole thing down Start all over again Let the deal go down Ride that mystery train

Let the deal go down, let the wild wind blow Let the dreaming go, let the steel rain fall Let the seed be sown, 'til everything is known Let the deal go down, let the wild wind blow Let the dreaming go

On the road to anywhere, in a place that exists without time I met a girl who sang to me but my, my, what a colorful blind It's still raining in my mind

Let the deal go down Ride that mystery train Break the whole thing down Ride that mystery train, train Mystery train, train
