

Saturday Sunday

Transit

Why should I apologize?
Tell me now it's not the time
I only see you when I have the truth and have lied
Waiting on a better life, a better life

Don't wait too long
Are you coming home, home?
Are you feeling lost and alone?
Tell me why you crying for?
Will it ever be alright, alright,
Will it ever be ok, ok, ok
It's just another Saturday, Sunday
It gets better
It gets better

Spin the plans with words and fire
Burning down my piece of mine
Alone I was doing fine, doing fine
Alone I was doing fine, doing fine
It's all I want all the time
Should be a smile just brake you?
Alone I was doing fine, doing fine
Waiting for a better life, a better life

Are you coming home, home?
Are you feeling lost and alone?
Tell me why you crying for?
Will it ever be alright, alright,
Will it ever be ok, ok, ok
It's just another Saturday, Sunday
It gets better
It gets better
Alright, alright,
Will it ever be ok, ok, ok
It's just another Saturday, Sunday
It gets better
It gets better
I hope it gets better

And I'll be alright, alright
And you'll be ok, ok
And I'll be alright, alright
And you'll be ok, ok

Are you coming home, home?
Are you feeling lost and alone?
Tell me why you crying for?
Will it ever be alright, alright,
Will it ever be ok, ok, ok
It's just another Saturday, Sunday
It gets better
It gets better
I hope it gets better