Lookin for some validation like everyone else, everyone else Goin through a transformation losin myself, losin myself I tried to make the pieces fit when I knew it wasn't me On the outside looking in and now i can see

[CHORUS:]

There's a stranger in the mirror looking back at me now
The illusions getting clearer lost and I cannot be found
I don't recognize my face
I'm just so out of place
Who have I become
There's a stranger in the mirror
Oh I've gotta find a way out

I gave off the wrong impression somebody else, somebody else
I know I've made some bad decisions and now the regret is all i have left Am I afraid of who I am
Can I be satisfied
If there's a way to take it back who will I find

[CHORUS]

Stop runnin, runnin Stop runnin, runnin Stop runnin, runnin Stop runnin away from me

There's a stranger in the mirror I forgot who I once was There's a stranger in the mirror and I can't be somethin I know that I'm not!
