Contradictions

Trauma

The world is sunk in a fire
Like an oil shaft
It blows with the fire
Which is bigger and bigger, higher
Towards the very sky
Until the last spark
Burns eyes of existence

Laments can't help now
Confessionals have already burnt
And hearts won't help
This is a day which ends with ashes

Light!
Day!
Thoughts!
Contradictions

Testaments will remain in cinders For the new unknown Maybe better losers Despised with the curse

Everything has already glittered All the flame has already put out The ashes of the sin Are waiting for the wind